

Freedom of Information Act & Open Meetings Act

Attorney General Madigan Offers Free Seminars on Key Changes to Transparency Laws

The Illinois Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) and Open Meetings Act (OMA) are laws designed to hold government accountable to the people it serves. Effective January 1, 2010, significant changes to these laws took effect in order to provide Illinois residents with a more open and transparent government. In order to foster compliance with FOIA and OMA and increase awareness by both members of the public and public officials of their rights and responsibilities under them, the Attorney General's Office is offering a series of free seminars.
